

Assisted Living — For Adults of All Ages

Bridgeway Pointe is a vibrant, wellness-based facility where adults of all ages come together to create a sense of community and camaraderie.

Unlike most assisted living facilities, Bridgeway Pointe has a dynamic mix of younger and older adult residents. In fact, ten residents are in their 40s and 50s, and four are in their 60s. Baby boomer-aged residents include those who have chronic health conditions and/or physical challenges due to a stroke, accident or other circumstances.

Like a balanced family, the younger adults bring energy and vitality to the older residents and the older residents share their grace and wisdom with the younger generation (including staff). Everyone benefits as multi-generational friendships develop and grow, deepening over time.

As Active As You Choose to Be

Bridgeway Pointe residents know how to stay busy — and relax! Depending upon individual interests, activities include work outs in our on-site fitness center, tending gardens in the Courtyard with our Nature Group, painting in our Art Studio, volunteering at the Drake Center and enjoying all types of live music. Residents also can participate in computer lessons, enrichment classes and Catholic and non-denominational religious services (held in our Chapel). Our entire staff encourages residents to remain active and engaged — physically, emotionally, socially, intellectually and spiritually.

"Not only do I participate in the Baby Boomers group, but most of the other activities as well. We have a Red Hat Society, which I always enjoy. Then there's the 'Lunch and a Movie' program that my Bible Study Group started this year — that's going strong. It's wonderful to have friends of all ages. We're all part of the circle of life."

Great Life Moments

Bridgeway Pointe doesn't just welcome younger adult residents — we embrace them. Programs and activities are designed to help everyone enjoy life to the fullest. We even have a resident-driven Baby Boomers Group, whose members regularly plan special outings, gatherings and programs. Trips have included Newport Aquarium, Cincinnati Reds games, Ohio River cruises, cultural events, favorite restaurants, the College Hill Coffee Co., and many more.

High-Touch Combined with High-Tech: The Best of Both Worlds

Regardless of the level of health services you'll need, you'll be impressed with our experienced, caring staff (which we are proud to say has great longevity) and round-the-clock nursing coverage.

Another advantage of living here is the option to install the Healthsense eNeighbor® system, our state-of-the-art remote monitoring tool designed to help maximize our residents' health, safety and quality of life as long as possible. If elected, small, wireless, non-invasive sensors can be placed in a resident's apartment to alert staff if someone may have taken a fall and/or to help monitor specified health conditions (personalized according to each individual's needs).

In addition, every resident wears a pendant or bracelet connected to a wireless nurse call system that extends throughout the building. Our on-site licensed nurses monitor and respond to those calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our goal is to be proactive — to help residents remain healthy, safe and fulfilled as long as possible.

"All of the younger residents at Bridgeway Pointe participate in the Baby Boomers Group, and the staff has been great about accommodating our interests. When younger people move in, we make every effort to include them and welcome their ideas. Being part of this group really helps younger residents like me fit in here, and creates a sense of camaraderie. It helps us feel as young as we are."
