Hear Me Roar

This year UC Health Women's Center will hold an annual art show called, Hear Me Roar. This is a juried art show awarding a one year residency/consignment opportunity and cash awards. This year's theme is women's health, empowerment, and art therapy. Works should engulf the essence of women in their varied roles and foster a visual stimulation of art therapy.

Art has been known for centuries to be a healing force and can help improve various mental and physical symptoms including, reducing pain, anxiety, tension and depression. Works can incorporate any medium but must represent some meaning of the given themes. Large hanging wall pieces are encouraged.

Please no nudity or political statements.
